

CAPACITY-BUILDING FOR YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

BELMONT UNIVERSITY – NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

NOVEMBER 17, 2010

PRESENTED BY

the Institute for Youth Development

At this one day interactive workshop youth-serving organizations will learn how to ...

- 1) Build partnerships with other youth serving organizations;
- 2) Appreciate different models of positive youth development strategies;
- 3) Understand and use logic models to plan your program, view its progress, and identify strategies to achieve future goals; and
- 4) Communicate program success stories to advocate and generate awareness of your organization's presence in the community and expand financial and program resources.

*All for the low cost of $40!
See inside for more details!*

WORKSHOP INFORMATION

The Institute for Youth Development (IYD), through a cooperative agreement with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Division of Adolescent and School Health (CDC/DASH) is pleased to announce a capacity-building workshop in Nashville, TN for organizations that serve youth, parents, and families. The goal of this workshop is to build the capacity of youth-serving organizations to implement positive youth development efforts to help adolescents obtain brighter futures. Participants will be trained in four areas of capacity-building, and are eligible to receive .8 Continuing Education Units (CEUs) from George Mason University.
